Essences "ROSTOK" as a new method of psychosomatic influence in energy information medicine N. Kempe (Liboch, Austria)

Back in the late 90s, electronic copies of C and M essences "ROSTOK" were introduced into the selector. The following groups have now been transferred to IMEDIS: LM, E, P, SOM.

There is extensive experience in the use of these essences, both natively and electronically. These essences are approved for use in Austria and Germany and are widely used.

In terms of their structure and manufacturing method, these essences differ significantly from the already known flower essences of all types, such as, for example, Bach Flowers, California essences, cereal essences, etc., including FLOWERPLEX preparations. They contain certain information packages of the Earth's lithosphere, meticulously selected for specific topics. Moreover, this information is recorded in a certain way on well-structured water at an altitude of about 1000 m or more above sea level. In the language of physics, these essences are very broadband and act simultaneously at all levels, i.e. on the purely physical, spiritual, emotional, etc.

Essences "ROSTOK" began to gain more and more importance now, when in energy-information medicine methods of treatment began to be created by influencing the immune system. Already the first works on psychoneuroimmunology showed that between the immune system, the mental mood, presence of stressful two-way states there is a very strong e state of a communication. Mental person as a product the most varied external and internal (e.g. genetic predisposition, endogenous psychosis, etc.), the effect on it has a profound effect on the function of the immune system, and vice versa, the immune system in all its diversity can affect physiological processes only by influencing the human psyche. At the same time, they are already talking about a special "consciousness" of the immune system, which can contribute to the fact that the immune system does not act as a priority not to optimize the homeostasis of an individual individual, but can pursue hierarchically more general goals of the population and the preservation of life in general. How not to recall here V. Vernadsky's foresight!

The first feature of ROSTOK essences is that they can and should be perfectly used to diagnose a condition in all its diversity. In this case, you can get the following information:

- what is the state at the moment;
- what topic is relevant now;
- what is the reason for the occurrence of this state (hereditive, associated with the influence of the environment, associated with the structure of the psyche, etc.);
- this individual will cope with the problems himself with therapeutic support or it is necessary to correct his purpose;

- is it possible to change his "fate" at all;
- what are the possibilities of correction, both at this stage and in the future;
- what protective information should be introduced into the patient's morphogenetic field.

This analysis helps both the therapist and the patient. At the same time, one of the most significant achievements of this analysis (as in the Scholten system) is that the patient "recognizes" himself, realizes his problems and begins to understand them structurally, setting appropriate priorities. Such results are much more difficult and even impossible to obtain only through the collection of anamnesis.

Using essences requires certain skills. The peculiarity of their application in the APK "IMEDIS" is their relatively easy testing and the possibility of using them during BRT.

Essences "ROSTOK" enhance the effect of induction programs. Let's take as an example the problem of the existence of subconscious fears. For the treatment of this very serious psychosomatic problem, which can negate all the efforts of the therapist, the IMEDIS system has many possibilities: these are numerous MEDFARMA preparations, Bach Flowers, Roy Martin preparations, Lindas preparations, the corresponding induction program. But the complete removal of the emotion of fear is achieved only with the use of the essence of M41. In all cleansing operations, the essence of M13 is indispensable, and the essence of M7 is much stronger than the corresponding "rescue" essence of Bach.

The essence of Frankincense is of particular importance. As you know, at present, the intake of incense inside is now carried away both with various brain tumors and with severe arthritis, arthrosis and microinflammatory processes. The use of the essence of Frankincense with BRT significantly enhances the effect of therapy.

One of the very serious problems is chakra harmonization. The selector contains a set of drugs both for testing and for normalizing their functioning. But this applies only to the classic somatic chakras. Both in Indian teachings and in modern biocybernetic models the next 5 chakras, which are responsible for transmitting special cosmic information to the individual, are also presented. Here, C8-12 drugs provide invaluable service both in testing and in therapy. Moreover, the changes occurring in the body after the stabilization of these chakras are so strong that it is immediately noticeable during segmental diagnostics. If at least one of these "shutters" is closed, light therapy (and many other types of therapy) is ineffective!

Another interesting property of these essences is the ability to work with the subconscious of patients. This is a very important factor when working with children.

Ms Wolgemut's books contain interesting indication sheets on the use of these essences, for example, in her book "Rostok-Essenzen". ISBN 9 783 950 11 4232.

Details in the use of essences "ROSTOK", especially LM-essences and the most interesting results will be presented and discussed at seminar.
