

Capabilities of the "IMEDIS-EXPERT" system in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer

N. Kempe
(Liboch, Austria)

The problem of oncological diseases remains a priority for modern society. According to WHO forecasts, the incidence of cancer and mortality from these diseases has doubled since 1999. Among the causes of death, malignant neoplasms rank second after cardiovascular diseases.

In view of the importance of the problem, the efforts of scientists and doctors are aimed at ways of solving it, but the efforts being made do not give the expected good results.

From our point of view, cancer cannot be considered only as a disease of dividing cells, separating this process from the functional biological system, which is a man with all his complex hierarchical structure of construction.

Given this circumstance, patients with oncological diseases need to carry out complex treatment.

Our experience of work at APK "IMEDIS-EXPERT" for almost 20 years allows us to systematize the main approaches to solving this problem.

Below is a brief summary of the main provisions of the approach to this problem.

1. In the first session, try to get as clear an idea of the state of homeostasis, energy exchange and the patient's psyche, to determine prenatal burdens and blockages:

- Regardless of the patient's condition, regardless of the phase of the disease, mental treatment should be started immediately. Therefore, it is necessary to determine the degree of mental stress and the presence of energy blockages, the presence and depth of fear, the structure of thinking and basic emotions at the moment, not overloading the patient with lengthy questioning, but with the testing method. In this case, it is necessary to immediately inform the patient of the detected parameters, which greatly increases confidence and is very useful in the future during treatment. (The initial history should be minimal, since the patient will give a picture of himself from his consciousness, which may differ sharply from the true picture, since the latter is determined by the subconscious);
- In parallel, check the state of slagging of the mesenchyme, toxic overload, especially at the cellular level;
- Very accurately check the effect of the environment. Not only classical geopathogenic, radioactive and electromagnetic loads, but also their type, for example, through the preparations "Rayex", "Medpharma", etc.;
- Assess the reserves of adaptation both through indices and through segmental diagnostics and the possibilities of energy exchange through the C8-C12 chakras;
- Determination of the presence of scars and traces of operational anesthesia;
- Thoroughly check the state of the immune system and its individual components by testing;

- Check for possible genetic predispositions;
- Assess the condition of the excretory organs (liver, lungs, kidneys, skin);
- And finally, very carefully check for the presence of oncology, whether it exists at all, at what stage, what is the state of proteins, transformation and absorption of tissue, the degree of pre-oncology, not allowing yourself to be blinded by the diagnosis brought. According to statistics, in 40% of cases, cancer is actually not diagnosed.

With proper preparation, this can be done quickly and clearly in 40-50 minutes. Do not forget to briefly remove the action taken by the patient of allopathic and geopathic drugs in low potencies. Upon completion, at least 10-12 minutes of classical bioresonance therapy should be done according to one of the strategies with energy-informational unloading of the body and parallel opening of energy channels.

2. Creation of a therapy program

This is a very crucial moment. The result depends on the correctness of the therapy program.

In this case, the approach depends on what decision the patient has made, whether he will do therapy in classical medicine (chemistry, surgery, radiation) or completely switch to energy-informational medicine. In the first case, we carry out accompanying treatment, which consists in detoxification, strengthening the immune system, stabilizing the work of individual organs and systems. In the second case, we start treatment with either purely bioresonant methods using induction programs or specially selected complexes from the selector, or using in the bioresonance mode in the temporal modulation mode of resonant frequencies from the "Oncology" department in the group of main and additional frequencies. In both cases, the next session is intended to change the patient's psychological profile. In most cases, this is Jan Scholten's therapy (usually this is lanthanide therapy) or according to a special algorithm Systemic Spiritual Adaptants. In both cases, in the process of therapy, the blockade of subconscious fear is removed. The patient is given a drug, which is water informed during therapy with the addition of one drop of either Bach flowers (strictly tested) or the essence of the planets or Spiritual essences "Rostock" (very often it is M11 or M7 or M4)

The time of appointment of the second session depends on many circumstances, but it should be no later than 2 weeks after the first session.

Further treatment is strictly individual. It consists in the further conduct of psychotherapy in order to organize an approximation to the ideal line of homeothesis, eliminate blockages and mobilize the forces of self-healing. In the somatic plan, the necessary strengthening of all body systems is carried out and, first of all, the immune system with all the means at our disposal. Patients undergoing parallel chemotherapy and, especially, radiation, patients taking hormonal drugs after official treatment, require special attention. In addition, they need constant monitoring of the development of parasites and their elimination, or at least the suspension of their rapid reproduction. This requires constant clinical monitoring.

Patients undergoing tomography, both X-ray and nuclear magnetic, should undergo unloading of the body as quickly as possible from this strong X-ray radiation or strong magnetic field during tomography.

As already mentioned, this disease is very complex, and therapy should also be multifaceted. Therefore, in therapy we use a number of additional drugs, such as frankincense and zeolites.

All of the above sounds pretty simple, but in reality it is very hard work, requiring constant accurate testing and selection of the optimal therapy at the moment. All stages of such work with patients will be presented in detail at the seminar.

No matter how hard this work is, its results are deeply satisfying. Patients who have undergone such treatment are completely free from all their symptoms and live a fruitful life. Their minds undergo a strong change, they become completely different, relaxed, self-confident and very creative.

Since 1996, I have worked with 68 clinically diagnosed cancer patients. Moreover, in 58 cases, the "IMEDIS" -diagnosis coincided with the clinical one, in Oncology was not tested in 10 cases, from them in 4 cases repeated clinical studies, unfortunately interventions, the already after surgical same cancer was not confirmed.

These patients are divided into three categories.

The first category includes patients who come with a clinical diagnosis of cancer, who have decided to carry out classical therapy (surgery, radiation, chemistry), but expect accompanying treatment from us. In total, this is 34 people, of which 16 are completely cured, 8 are fatal, 10 people continue to be treated. It should be noted that of these 16 patients, 14 interrupted chemotherapy at the latest after the third session and the majority refused to carry out radiation. The deceased patients lived from one to seven (!) Years, and these last years they also lived actively. Those who are still on treatment also live normal, active working lives.

The second category consists of patients who came with a clinical diagnosis of cancer, but refused to carry out standard therapy and intend to be treated with alternative methods. There are 12 such patients. Of these, 9 live full lives, but they continue to support their health with the help of the IMEDIS system, two are fatal due to oncology and one death due to another reason.

The third category is patients with oncology who have undergone classical therapy, usually with metastases, desperate and come with the last hope, who are in one of the last stages of the disease. These are 22 patients. Of these, 14 patients continue to be treated, 7 - death and one death from another cause. The treated patients, with the exception of two, are inoperable. It is important to note here that the death of these patients was not as terrible as it usually happens with this disease.

A few words about children with cancer. Of the 68 patients mentioned above - 6 children. 5 of them are in the first category, and all are in excellent condition, the cancer is no longer clinically tested, but they are under the supervision of doctors and constantly undergo periodic therapy at the APK "IMEDIS-EXPERT". One girl came to us in a completely terrible state, it was not possible to save her, but it was possible to ease her death.

Of course, these figures cannot be generalized globally, but the accumulated experience allows us to start developing a method for treating this terrible disease using energy-informational methods.

Another category is patients in whom oncology or pre-oncology was tested on the APK "IMEDIS-EXPERT", and during treatment it was possible to remove it even before the patient knew it. This circumstance makes it possible to develop effective methods to prevent cancer. The first observations of this kind will also be reported at the workshop.

Literature

1. Vernadsky V.I. Biosphere and noosphere. - M.: Nauka, 1989.
2. Jung CG Archetyp und Unbewußtes.
3. Fomin Yu.A. The reality of the incredible.
4. Dobos G., Kümmel S. Gemeinsam gegen Krebs.
5. Ramakrishnan AU, Courter CR Krebs. Ein homöopathischer Behandlungsansatz.
6. Marr R. Rebell gegen Krebs.
7. Scholten J. Geheime Lanthanide.

N. Kempe Possibilities of the IMEDIS-EXPERT system in the diagnosis and treatment of oncological diseases // XVII